CEUISER CINCINNATI, WHICH ARRIVED FROM THE ORIENT VESTERDAY.

The United States cruiser Cincinnati arrived yesterday morning homeward bound. She had hardly come into the dock before the men were allowed liberty and started up town to take in everything which there was to see in the city and to spend the money which they have earned through their long tour in the cruiser. The Cincinnati is commanded by Captain John G. Quinby, an officer of the type which has endeared itself to the American public. Not a dilettante, quiet personality but a bluff sailor with the welfare of his men at heart and with every man on the ship anxious for a chance to do his commanding officer a favor through conscientious service. He has been here before several times, as has Lieut, Commander G. R. Evans, who is the Cincinnati's executive officer.

The Cincinnati will remain in this city over Sunday, and possibly longer. The public will be welcome on board at all times when the presence of outsiders does not interfere with the discipline of the vessel, and she is not coaling. This last work will be commenced on Friday and will be rushed through, as the sooner the coal is on board the more liberty will be given the men.

One watch was allowed shore leave yesterday afternoon and the second watch will come ashore today. The men are all happy as can be and not a word of disgruntlement can be heard from any of them. They all say that the eruiser, her officers and commander cannot be excelled and that they will never complain under such congenial conditions as exist at present.

The Cincinnati was picked up while 50 miles away by the operator at the wireless station at the local naval headquarters and asked where she should dock and stated that she would need about 400 tens of coal, part of which will be Cardiff and part Eureka. The Raleigh joined in the conversation through the air and the dispatches kept flying back and forth till the Cincinnati game into her dock at 1 c'elock.

ports, wild and the suit of samuel C. Dwight v. -mos not PASSENGERS et ener . In the suit of Samuel C. Dwight v. -mos not PASSENGERS et ener . P. W. Davis, the plaintiff yesterday entered satisfaction of the judgment Per str. Mauna Loa, August 27 .- rendered in the case July 8.

The Supreme Court yesterday handed down a decision by Chief Justice Hartwell in the case of the Dowsett Company, Ltd. v. R. L. Gilliland, This was a suit for rent for property leased by the plaintiff to the defendant.

The following is the opinion of the court by Hartwell, C. J.;

Assumpsit to recover of the defendany the sum of $140 being, in addition to $2.50 taxes, rents payable on a lease made by the plaintiff to the defendant demising a parcel of 6.74 acres for the term of seven years from June 1, 1903, for an annual rental of $25 for the first two years and $100 thereafter, and the taxes.

The defense was that one L. L. Mc-Candless, claiming an undivided onefourth of the leased land, constructed a reservoir about eight feet square upon a corner of the land for his own use, that the plaintiff admitted this title of McCandless and that in consequence of the defendant's eviction or disturbance of possession resulting from the construction of the reservoir the defendant had surrendered the

The judge, jury being waived, found for the plaintiff the sum claimed and entered judgment accordingly. The ground that the judgment was contrary to the law and the evidence and excepted to the denial of his motion.

The judge's decision is sustainable on several grounds, for instance, although the defendant testified that he told the plaintiff's representative that he gave up the lease and would surrender it, the plaintiff's evidence showed that the defendant's animals continued to run upon the premises and that he did not surrender the lease. Again, the evidence shows an acquiescence on the part of the defendant in the erection of the reservoir, he expressly consenting to the selection of the place where it was erected and afterwards repeatedly promising to pay the overdue rent.

BOND ISSUE TO AWAIT NUUANU DAM MATTER

Governor Frear and Treasurer Campbell were in conference yesterday afternoon, presumably studying up the legal aspect of the loan fund bill and the loan fund appropriations. The legislature authorized the issue of bonds for specified improvements. But it is not probable that the question of the issue of bonds will be fully settled until the Nuuanu dam matter is settled, as a considerable portion of the authorized bond issue was for the completion of the Nuuanu dam, Kalihi sewer system, the Makiki reservoir, the lock-bar pipe contract. These are the things with which Howland has been most intimately connected. In addition there is the work done on the new wharfage system at the naval docks. In the first list given not one of the contracts has been put through without a long series of bunglings being exposed, the facts in the various cases being fresh in the minds faithfully, I have been rewarded.

At the present time the force at the Nuuanu reservoir has been cut in two so far as the workmen are concerned. The work in the quarry has been shut down and about twenty other laborers have been laid off. But the full force of superintendents are kept at work and the already excessive proportion-more proportionately excessive. The famous pump seems to have struck its gait. On Wednesday it was delivering a triffe over sixty per cent. imum of nine hundred yards of earth a day being brought down, as promised by Howland, the amount is less than the many dam fizzles.

PAY UP HIS RENT OF KAPAPALA LAND

Territorial Surveyor Wall has just had completed a large traced paper outline map of the Kapapala ranch lands which are advertised for lease, and it will soon be posted for inspection at the entrance to the land office.

The map is the result of one of the most perfect and painstaking surveys ever made in the Hawaiian Islands. In the Kinau yesterday to be associated making it the men who did the actual surveying traveled back and forth on James' church of that city. She will the land more than 2000 miles. The whole area is, of course, of lava formation lying southerly and westerly of the crater of Kilauea, and ex-7200 feet. Over this area lava flows of lava flows are so old that they have formed deep, rich soil. There are fields of manienie grass, and other fields of defendant moved for a new trial on the pili grass, and still other fields of Hilo grass. There are great forests, and greater fields of ohelo berries. There are palls a thousand feet high. There are the great steam cracks of 1868, and there are cane lands. All these are marked on the map, and make it an interesting study.

The survey for this map has added considerably to the knowledge of the geology of the island and a very great deal to the more accurate location of certain lava flows of recent times, and of other seismic disturbances that have occurred within historic times.
